Quilt Show ~~ 2020 ~~ Log Cabin Fever ~~~

Looks like Raffle Ticket sales are moving along well. If you have not yet picked up your tickets, please remember to do so. This is part of your membership responsibility.

Thank you to all those who have already returned their ticket money.

Remember that this is a major portion of our Guild funding.

The other major part of fund raising is the paid attendees to the show. The more the merrier!

Poster are available for you to post at your local haunts; fish fries are approaching and a good source for promotion. Don't be shy - pick up some flyers at the February meeting and post them anywhere/everywhere.

Thank you to Piecing It Together for displaying our quilt for the month of January, next stop is The Gallery of Fabrics in Mercer, for the month of February. Be sure to express our appreciation to these shops when you go there.

Don't forget to send in your quilt registration for the show. For that matter, don't hesitate to finish your quilts and send their photos in! Registration forms are on the website.

Donna Martin plans on having the sign-up sheets for Quilt Show volunteers at the February Meeting. For new people - your "shift" can be for 2-3 hours at a time.

There will be a Members' Consignment Table, please see Peggy Splane for details on that.

Dream Baskets ~~~

Please remember that items are always appreciated to enhance our baskets and increase their appeal to everyone.

We can always use more sewing items, maybe a good idea would be sewing notions that could appeal to kids who might like a “new” hobby; or items to offer comfort or relaxation to tired quilters. If it looks good to you, feel free to bring it in.

Thanks so much,

Tricia McSorley and Jan Merritt

Community Service ~~~

Thank you to all who took a quilt top kit. We already have 5 completed quilts on hand and are looking forward to welcoming your quilt ! We would like to have 50 quilts in our inventory to distribute. Cheryl Goldberg will have more layer cake kits and jelly rolls at the February meeting along with a variety of materials for backs. So, please join in and make a quilt. A good opportunity to hone your skills.

We continue cutting and sewing Santa Bags for Childrens Hospital, the March meeting will be a good time for this. They were so appreciated and welcomed by the children and the hospital staff.

Quilt & Wilt ~~~ Saturday February 29 10:00 to 3:30 -ish at St. John’s Lutheran Church on Cumberland Road

Refreshments are on your own, unless someone would like to organize another theme.

This could be a good time for an impromptu jelly roll race with the kits from Cheryl. Just sayin’
